Boat ramp comments:

1. Why are we having this conversation about the boat ramp? Did we not address this 3 years ago? Does this mean every time we have a new council we will be addressing it again?
2. Amy Quiring who said she lives in the area of the boat ramp posted on nextdoor “the gate is hardly ever opened and closed during the day actually. Mostly just evenings and weekends during the summertime.” So by reducing the evening and weekend hours you are essentially blocking people from using the river during the only times it is used.
3. Where in the constitution of the United States does it guarantee river dwellers a quiet and peaceful dinner on their deck?
4. Those who want to limit access to the boat ramp primarily live on the river. Those who are voting on boat ramp access to non river dwellers ALL live on the river. Does anyone else have a problem with this?
5. Our country is at war. An underlying power is pushing the conflict agenda of left against right. Democrats against Republicans. Black against white. Vaccinated against unvaccinated. Boat ramp against no boat ramp. It's only a matter of time before our internet, power, gas, etc are taken down in order to control behaviors and the narrative. Farmers and truckers keep warning us food shortages are on the horizon. The summer drought brings an ever increasing fire danger. Our trees are dying. Our Council, instead of focusing on emergency preparedness and building community and connection with one another, is fueling the global conflict by feeding the boat ramp/ no boat ramp discussion. In a true emergency police, fire and paramedics won't be able to reach our city and the only thing that will save us is how well we know and get along with our neighbors. Why in the world have our community leaders invested all of their resources in boat ramp discussions and nothing in emergency preparedness? There have been numerous warnings that times are about to get real tough. When people aren't prepared with food, water and medications... will they be happy our city leaders spent yet another year discussing the boat ramp? Sent from my iPhone
