Do we have your email address? If not, please share! You'll get a newsletter that's more interesting. This month's has an extra article—and it will arrive sooner. Just send your email to manager@cityofrivergrove.com and we'll start sending your Rivergrove Report online.

Where Would You Like to See Trees in Lloyd Minor Park?

The City will be planting at least 13 trees in Lloyd Minor Park, as mitigation for the row of dangerous and rotten corkscrew willows that were removed earlier. The new trees will be planted in late September, in time for the rainy season and will include a variety of native species.

But where shall we plant them? Please let us know your preference by emailing the Councilor in charge of Parks, Dave Pierce at RivergroveCouncilorDave@gmail.com, or sending a message to the city manager at City of Rivergrove, PO Box 1104, Lake Oswego, OR 97035.

Some suggestions:

- Across the north end of the park, as before
- Throughout the park in a random pattern
- To provide shade for the play structure and bench
- To provide shade for the picnic table
- As a cluster in the southeast corner
- As a cluster in the southwest corner
- Or???

We look forward to hearing from you!
